'Billyo' visits Sherwood High School

Well-known artist Billy O'Donnell (often known as Billyo) delighted art students at Sherwood High School when he came to visit with them about art and techniques.

He demonstrated his painting style and then he did a portrait of Justin Geiser, whose name was drawn out of a hat to be the lucky model.

"Billyo" has taken part in the two "artist weekends" in Clinton.

The first was known as "Artists Along The KATY Trail" and the second one expanded its title to "Missouri Artists", to attract more visiting talent.

Thanks goes to Sherwood art instructor Darla Zook for planning an exciting program for her students and to Billy O'Donnell for his gracious visit.
